Use default or user-defined setting Modify
All SQL alternatives will be executed once.

Improve my SQL for slow first-time execution without data cache, although it is fast on the second execution

It is a long run time SQL and I am looking for a SQL with a run time within 30 Minutes

Improve my short run time SQL to run even faster since the SQL is executed thousands of times in a minute

What improvement you are looking for:

I want to tune my SQL for better elapsed time

I want to tune my SQL for better response time since It is a SQL for online query

I want to tune my SQL to use less CPU time since my system is CPU bound

I want to tune my SQL to use less IO time since my system is IO bound

I want to tune my SQL to use less Logical Reads

Executing Method :

Select a method to measure the performance of your SQL statements.

Static

Dynamic

Benchmarking SQL alternatives may affect other SQL statements that executing in the same database. It is recommended to execute this function in development environment or non-peak hours in production database.
